Overarching aims for today

- Information exchange
- Networking
- Stimulation - thinking time – ‘brain space’

Dudley, 1983

Wider context: NHS England and others

- Five Year Forward View: widening gaps:
  - Health and wellbeing gap
  - Care and quality gap
  - Funding and efficiency gap
- Seven Day Services
- Commitment to Carers
- Long term conditions

Care: 2014-16

House of Care framework

Engaged, involved and compassionate communities

Headline ambitions

- Getting care as good as it can be wherever the person is - at all stages
- Care that matches the person's preferences as closely as possible and meets needs as far as possible
- Staff who have confidence to bring these skills into other parts of care – i.e. further upstream and laterally
- Reducing the inequality gap
- Everybody feeling responsible for playing their part in end of life care – in a constructive way

Headline ambitions

- Getting care as good as possible over the person's life - at all stages
- Care that matches the person's preferences as closely as possible and meets needs as closely as possible
- Staff and services working together to bring these ambitions into other parts of the system, further upstream
- Reducing the health care gap
- Everyone responsible for planning and providing end of life care – in a constructive way
